LODGE KEY APPLICATION

Trails Club members may obtain a personal lodge key by applying to the Board of Trustees in writing stating their qualifications for holding a Lodge key and their reason for wanting a key of their own. This application makes it easy for you to provide the needed information and understand the responsibility that comes along with a personal lodge key.

In order to qualify for a lodge key you must have been a regular member in good standing for at least one year. You must also be familiar with the operation of the lodge where you will be using your key. There is no fee charged for the use of a key, but a $20.00 deposit, submitted with your application, is required to assure each key is returned. A key will be issued to you by the Lodge Chair after the Board of Trustees has approved your request and the deposit has been received

The following rules have been established by the Board of Trustees regarding personal lodge keys:

- Lodge keys will not be duplicated.
- Lodge keys will not be loaned to anyone without prior approval of the Lodge Chair or the Board of Trustees.
- Key holders are expected to host, cook or help maintain the lodges each year.
- All people using the lodge will sign the register and send in the appropriate lodge fees.
- Lodge key holders are responsible for the proper operation and closing of the lodges when they open the lodge.
- All keys remain the property of the Trails Club of Oregon and can be recalled at any time.
- Failure to follow these rules or irresponsible use of your key, by yourself or others, may result in you losing the privilege of a personal lodge key.
