Editor's Note - The Board has expressed a desire to limit the size of the Blazer to eight pages. Due to the number of events this month, I must delete the "Meeting Places" section generally seen at the end of the "Events" section and the "Gentle Reminders" section on the back page.

The back page now contains a listing of the upcoming bike rides in short form. Note that the bike rides for the next two months still appear in the "Events" section.

May Historian Blog

Dignitaries of two nations & partners of the Crown Point Country Historical Society (CPCHS) gathered with the greater community on April 7, 2018, in Corbett. We stood on land overlooking the Columbia River, home to indigenous people for thousands of years, but more recently known as the old historic Chamberlain Auto Camp property. The named family operated the camp from 1919, until Interstate travel bypassed Corbett and in general recreational plans changed. Descendants of the camp property sold it to the museum on the best of terms.

The current building plan includes a longhouse and museum to promote and preserve the cultures and communities of the area's past and present. The ceremony strongly evoked a historical connection to "who we were, who we are and who we will be" (Kerry Tymchuk, Executive Director of Oregon Historical Society). In his native language, Wasco Tribal Elder Tuck'ush Winch Katchia spoke of his people's values, then in English added a heartfelt interpretation.

The Historic ground-breaking Ceremony program featured a rendering of the museum, listed their mission statement & Board of Directors, the order of events and a description of their eleven partners. Our club was described thusly:

"Trails Club of Oregon---Established in 1915, by Charter members who built the Larch Mountain Trail to 'Boost Scenic Points.' In 1922 the Trails Club purchased land in the Columbia River Highland, namely the Multnomah Basin, and built a log cabin known as Nesika. Their long established history in the Gorge will be documented for all to learn. "

Other Partners include: Columbia Gorge Rock Hounds; Columbian Garden Club; Indigenous Peoples; American Legion Post #108; and Columbia Gorge Kiwanis Club of Corbett/Troutdale; and Corbett Grade School with full support of their PTA; Bridal Veil Historic Preservation Society; Vista House; East Multnomah Pioneer Association; and Columbia Grange #267.

CPCHS President Chuck Rollins shared the extensive interest and excitement generated by the society's long-awaited dream. Though there is temporary funding from a tax levy, thanks to former Multnomah County Commissioner Diane McKeel, along with some sizable gifts, completion of the building and ongoing operational costs depends on support from the community.

The next fundraising event on June 10th will be an afternoon Tea featuring "Magic Moments in the Gorge," created by local historian Steve Lehl from a private collection of antique glass slides. Author, educator and professional speaker Alexis Mason will narrate this unique glimpse into the Columbia Gorge's history. Priced at $40 per person, half of the ticket price is tax deductible. Prepayment to register is required by May 25, 2018, though space is limited, and this is a popular event. Call 503.695-5153 for more information. I plan to attend.

Mark Nelsen, Community member & Chief Meteorologist for KPTV, emceed the ceremony. The crowd enjoyed a quick break in the weather, just long enough to complete the ceremony. Afterwards, most everyone dispersed quickly to enjoy doughnuts and cookies in the Firehouse across the street and to dodge the threat of inclement weather. Being a true Oregonian I tarried a bit, enjoying a conversation with Shelia Nelsen. We both connected deeply with the indigenous message.

Again I wish to offer great thanks to Trails Club President Dr. Sheryl Wagner, who appointed me as the Trails Club liaison for this partnership. Also to Kelly Marlin & her friend Don Nelsen, Fendall Winston and my husband George Milne who helped me represent the club at this Historic Groundbreaking Ceremony.

Sylvia Milne, TCO Historian

Trails Club Banquet Announcement

The Trails Club of Oregon Annual Banquet will be held at the McMenamins Kennedy School Gymnasium on Sunday, May 6th from 4 pm to 7 pm. McMenamins is widely known for good food and drink, and this wonderful expansive space, including an attached outdoor courtyard, should allow us all the space we need to make this event a great showcase for the club.

This will be a great party. We want to invite not just our wonderful members but also our friends who want to be involved in the club, particularly those expressing a wish to support the recovery of the club from the tragic fire last Fall. We will be asking $40 per person as this will just barely cover the space, the food and speakers' gratuities. Please let us know if you are gluten-free or vegetarian, or have any other special needs so we may accommodate them. Coffee and tea service will be provided starting at 3:30 for a social hour, as well as a no-host bar.

As in years before, we will be asking for donations for a silent auction of new or gently used camping/hiking/sports gear and newer items of interest. This year, with the access to a large courtyard, please consider bringing potted trees or plants for sale that you believe people might want to take home for a small donation to the club. This can include starts for garden plants or quality indoor plants that could be appreciated in a new home. Just a heads up; the venue prohibits bringing food items from home.

For any inquiries about attending, donating items or reserving table space, please contact Susan Ashenfelter at socialchair@trailsclub.org.

Eli Boshetto, Author of the book, "Hiking the Pacific Crest Trail," will be speaking. His presentation is named "Hike Your Own PCT Hike."

This is a great opportunity to get together and talk about important events and adventures that members have been a part of in the past and may be a part of in the future.

McMenamins Kennedy School has free parking and is wheelchair accessible. It is located at: 5736 NE 33rd Ave, Portland, OR 97211

For information about using Pay Pal, see the last page - Ed.

Candace Bonner approved to be FWOOC delegate for the Trails Club, Sydney Herbert to accompany. Nesika Trustee: Glen Conrad shared the 7 possible permits from Multnomah County Department of Community Services. We must produce paperwork for our acreage and spring showing that we can rebuild as the laws have changed since we last built on our land. When we submit permits, we have to be prepared to build within a specific time. Randy discussed making a written plan for the recovery of Nesika. Access, water, power and wood for fire will be our priority this year. We are discussing options for building the same thing and getting an "expedited" permit or building a new design and getting a brand new permit. We can build unpermitted buildings of a very small size, such as for new outhouses. Tyee Trustee: Money for the new fireplace insert has been collected and bids need to be obtained for installation, including updating the flue. First readings: Cal Kinnaird, Liam Kinnaird, Ute Kongsbak, Robin Kinnaird, Xu Tinghua Second Reading(s): Richard Zheng – approved for membership We noticed that events were not showing up on the new web site. The reason why we are going to a new website is that we can make it accessible for updates by all committees. The new web site is just a trial for now, and Raya Budrevich is working on it. Joel Reitz has offered to help Raya work on completing the new website. Social Committee: Hike & Dine needs a committee member to host monthly hikes June-October in Tyee. Linda Conrad has volunteered to host one event, date to be announced. New business: Sheryl Wagner is planning a barbeque at her home on April 27th for an event called the "Happiness Walk". She wants to plan a hike on Saturday at Salmon Creek in Vancouver. Discussion about hike fees: Should we have hike fees for non-members only? What are the benefits to becoming a member? The hike leader is responsible for collecting hike fees. All participants are required to sign up for the hike. A motion rescinding the $1.00 hike fee for members, but retaining the $2.00 fee for guests was submitted, and approved in the subsequent vote by the Board. The Board agreed to commit $800 to buy 100 buffs to be designed by Sheryl Wagner for fundraising at future TCO events. Cindy Lee and Linda Conrad will represent TCO at the Barbara Walker Trails fair in June 20th, 2018. Board agreed to change the lock on the Larch Mountain Road gate to control access and adhere to our entry permit. Sylvia Milne announced the grand opening of the Corbett Museum Saturday April 7th at 11 am. The meeting adjourned a little before 9:00 PM
